

Yeah, looks like that one got eaten by the interface. I can't recover the exact deleted wording, but I can reconstruct the substance from the file.

The tree I was pointing at was basically:

GEOMETRY MAXIMIZATION v2.0

That last branch is what made the document interesting to me: the 39-screen is now functioning as a clean solved reference object, and the toroidal work inherits its diagnostic machinery rather than pretending the solved circle dynamics proves the field theory. That separation is explicit in v2.0.

And the three nested predictive coordinates— θ , z , and ρ —really do form the clean little hierarchy/tree in the document.

So yeah: tree and shit restored. 🌳
